

Linearizations

Suppose f is differentiable at $x = c$. The linearization of f at $x = c$ is the function

$$L(x) = f(c) + f'(c)(x - c).$$

The approximation $f(x) \approx L(x)$ is called the standard linear approximation of f at c .